His prayeer for the transfer (through Marg Razvinama) of S. no 69 to one Hanumantha bin Sanjeeviah has been rejected by the Dy. In the present case there might be some doubt in Antarpasi's contention that out of spite the Inamdars wants to deprive him of the land. Antarpasi might also say that according to the terms of his Sanad he is entitled to quit the land ~~and take~~ any time the original Temple is restored and not otherwise. I do not know if this contention can be upheld. If it cannot then the lands may be transferred to any other institution ~~in the Anjaneyaswami~~ even of the Narayanaswami or Chandramowleeswara temple of at Bhavani. Inamdars may not deserve an endowment.

Sir,

I have the honor to state that Sri Anjaneyaswami at Guddahalli in the Closepet Sub Taluk is endowed with the marginally noted Inam lands. It is reported that the village having become Becharak, the idol was carried away by some body and the temple buildings were left in ruins. In the year 1897, when the above facts were brought to the notice of the Jamabandy Officer, he ordered that the Inam lands might be given over for cultivation temporarily on full assessment to one Seshappa who had applied for the lands. The lands have not been removed from the Inam head.

The Closepet Sub-Division Officer supports the Amildar's proposal. Under the above circumstances, I request that you will be so good as to obtain the sanction of Government for the transfer of the Inam lands to Sri Lakshminarayana Swami temple at Kenchagaranahalli.

(1). The Idol of Sri Narayanaswami was being worshipped in the Anjaneyaswami temple at Guddahalli.

(2). The Shanbhogue and other villagers got the temple built about 9 or 10 years ago and the temple has not any endowments.

(3). The Idols consecrated in the temple are being regularily worshipped.

(4). Seshappa referred to in the docket under reply resigned the temple lands obtained by him on temporary tenure in favour of one Hanumantha, but the 'Vargavargi' was rejected.

Seshappa's allegation against the Shanbhogue that he wanted to deprive him of the lands appears to be the outcome of the proceedings in connection with the rejection of the Vargavargi application.

The temple is reported to be in good condition and Nitya Katle and Hechu Katle services therein are being regularily conducted by means of subscriptions.

In these circumstances, I request that Government sanction may kindly be obtained for transferring the Ianm lands to Sri Narayanaswami consecrated in the temple of Sri Chandramouleswara at Bairamangala.

The Vernacular file in the matter is herein enclosed for reference and kind return.

I have the honor to be
